

Training overview

An introduction to the individual placement and support approach

If you're wanting to understand evidence-based employment support, then this three-hour session will ensure you understand the basic tenants of individual placement and support (IPS), what it is and why you should implement this approach?

Ideally suited for:

Anyone interested in supporting people with mental health and addiction issues into employment eg employment support practitioners, health professionals, peer and family organisations, MSD case managers, Corrections case managers.

Learning objectives include:

- the eight principles underpinning the approach
- research evidence
- fidelity reviews
- New Zealand policy drivers.

Contact the Work Counts team for more information.